

Inline yarn

The constant thickness of the yarn during the yarn production for textiles is decisive for the quality. Eddy current sensors at the web infeed which measure the thickness using sensing rollers are used for this. Another eddy current sensor monitors the already corrected thickness.

Details

Application specific complete solution

High dynamics and resolution

Non-contact measuring technique